OBSERVATIONS

AN ENTERPRISING OFFICIAL.—If any county can boast of an official, who does more in the discharge of his duty than he is required to do, it is Washington county which has such an official in its efficient jailer, Mr. George D. Catlett.

The particular in which most jailers are lax in the discharge of their duty, is in properly attending the county property. Things, which with a little labor, could be done, at the right time saving considerable money to the county in the way of repairs are left undone. causing deterioration in the value of the buildings, and great financial loss to the county Courthouses are hastily and carelessly swept consequently making a poor appearance. In very few instances in county towns is any attention paid to beautifying the courthouse grounds. Too many jailers are afraid to do anything for which they receive no pay, but simply do what the law requires, and scarcely that.

The Washington County buildings are looked after by one who is a custodian in the real sense of the word. The courthouse and adjacent buildings are kept in repair, and the conditions are as sanitary as possible.

Much improvement is being made in the appearance of the courthouse yard at the present time Most of the old elms, which the jailer has striven hard with only partial success, for several years, to save from the pests that have attacked them, have been removed, and maple trees planted in their stead. The yard has been sodded, and presents a beautiful velvet lawn This improvement is done for the county without cost on its part and reflects credit on the county and its industrious jailer.

A Baby Show in Springfield.

would have many contestants; but its safe to say that the healthiest babies would win the prize. No baby can be healthy who is free from worms and most babies do and unless they are kept free from them with White's Cream Vermifuge. Acts quickly, yet mildly—is its own purgative. Mothers, dont attempt to raise children without White's Cream Vermifuge. Price 25 cents. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Chicken is a Marvel.

Preble county, Ohio, has a freak fowl owned by Frank Dine, a farmer. It is to all appearances a rooster of the black Minorca species. In the past three weeks this rooster has laid 11 eggs. The eggs have been exhibited over the community and are very odd, there being no two of them the same size or shape. One looks like a miniature tenpin, another is the shape of a half moon, one like a stuffed sausage, and still another looks like a greatly enlarged capsule. The fowl is apparently healthy and the occurrence has produced quite a great deal of merriment. no one believing the story until the goods were produced. None of the eggs contain a yelk.

Words to Freeze the Soul.

"Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless." These appalling words were spoken to Geo. E Blevins, a leading merchant of Springfield, N. C. by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown, the wonderful power of Dr. King's New Discovery. "After three weeks use," writes Mr. Blevens, "he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy." Infallible for Coughs and Colds, its the safest, surest cure of desperate Lung diseases on earth. 50c and $1.00. The Haydon and Robinson Drug Store Guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Noted Teacher Passes Away.

Richmond, Ky., April 14—[Special]—Dr. Ruric Neville Roark, president of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, of this city, and one of the most widely known educators in the Middle West, died at noon today at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, in his 5th, year where he had been under treatment for the past three months, suffering from a breakdown due to overwork.

Dr. Roark was born at Greenville, Ky., May 19, 1859. He was educated in the Greenville Academy and in the National Normal University at Lebanon, O., where he was graduated in 1881 He was married to Mary Creegan at Lebanon in 1882, and taught for several years in his alma mater. In 1885 he established the Glasgow Normal School at Glasgow, Ky., where he remained four years, when he was selected dean of the pedagogical department of State University at Lexington. In this position he remained for seventeen years

He was the author of some very popular teachers' professional books. Chief among these is his "Psychology in Education," which has had a very wide sale. His other books are "Economy in Education," "Method in Education" and "General Outline of Pedagogy."

Thinks Convicts Should Work Roads.

Warden Mudd of the Frankfort Penitentiary, has under consideration a prison reform which, it is thought, he will soon endeavor to have enacted into a law. His plan is to have all prisoners sentenced to two years or less put to work on the roads, while the long termers are kept at work inside the prison walls. He would have them distributed in camps to counties and work union hours. He thinks that under this plan Kentucky would soon have the finest roads in the country.

Warden Mudd has also abolished the whipping of prisoners tied. His plan is to inflict the punishment with the prisoner's hands and feet free so that he may defend himself if he cares to do so.—Elizabethtown News.

NOTED LAWYER DEAD.

Charles H. Bronston Victim of Heart Disease at Home in Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., April 15.—After an illness of less than twenty hours, Col. Charles J. Bronston, former State Senator and one of the best known attorneys in the State, died this morning at 1:30 o'clock of acute dilation of the heart. He was in apparently the best of health and spirits when he retired Tuesday night. When he awoke Wednesday he complained of pains in the stomach, and about 8 o'clock he experienced an attack of heart trouble.

Charles J. Bronston was for some years one of the most picturesque characters in the politics of Kenucky, and was one of the best known men in the State having held a number of official positions. He was born in Richmond in 1848, but had resided in Lexington for many years.

Mr. Bronston was known as a man of fiery temper and was quick to resent what he thought was an insult. He and Col. Jack Chinn were for many years bitter enemies, and they barely missed several personal encounters in Lexington and Frankfort as the result of political differences.

Col. Bronston was considered absolutely fearless and his enemies generally avoided crossing his path.

Few men in the State, however, had more friends than the Colonel, and among those who knew him intimately he was greatly beloved. His ability as a lawyer was recognized all over Central and Eastern Kentucky, and he took part in the conduct of some of the most noted cases in those sections of the State.

Mass Meetiug

Of Citizens for Purpose of Petitioning for Lower Freight Rates.

Last Saturday a mass meeting of the citizens and business men of Springfield was held at the Court House for the purpose of petitioning the management of the L & N Railroad for lower freight rates on the Springfield branch of the L. & N. Railroad. Mr. A. C. McElroy was elected chairman and C. J Haydon Secretary. The object of the meeting was stated by the chairman and the disadvantages under which the business interests of Springfield were laboring by reason of higher rates to Springfield over the Louisville & Nashville system than is charged by other railroad systems to our neighboring cities to the North and East of us was fully discussed by different citizens. A committee on resolutions was appointed and reported stating that the cities of Harrodsburg, Danville and Lawrenceburg or the Southern Railway received a large amount of business from Washington county, because of the lower freight rates to these cities, and therefore be it,

Resolved that the citizens of Washington county respectfully petition the management of the Louisville Railroad Company to so regulate its rates to Springfield so that the rates to Springfield over the L. & N. Railroad will be no greater than the rates of the Southern Railway to the joints named,

Resolved, That Chas. J. Haydon and G. C. Wharton be and they are appointed a committee to present a copy of these proceedings to the management of the L. & N. R. R. Co. and they be urged to investigate the situation and grant the relief herein indicated.

Negro Killed.

William Kidd, alias "Billy the Kid," was shot and instantly killed by night policeman J. J. Cormney, Sunday morning about 12:30 The killing was promptly reported to the Coroner, County Judge and County Attorney. On Monday Coroner Brossels summoned a jury and an inquest was held, after which the jury returned a verdict. "We the coroner's jury find that 'Billy the Kid,' came to his death on April 11, 1909, by being shot by Joe Cormney, the night policemen, in self defense.

The witnesses at the inquest testified in substance that on Saturday night there was a negro dance in Estes avenue. The attention of the two officers was called to the dance, and also to the fact that it was a very noisy and disorderly one. A few minutes after midnight they went to investigate and as the dance still continued, in the early Sunday hour, stopped it. "Billy the Kid" resented the interruption and becoming abusive was informed by officer Cormney that he was under arrest. As he placed his hand on the negro's shoulder, the negro struck him with such force as to knock him against a window, breaking the sash The negro with one hand in his pocket started toward the policeman, who drew his pistol and fired, the bullet going wild. The negro continued to advance and at the second shot sank to the floor, dead, the ball having pierced his heart. When the coroner examined the body an open knife was found in his pocket.—Lebanon Falcon.

FOR GOVERNOR.

Congressman Ben Johnson to Go After Nomination

Washington, April 16—Congressman Ben Johnson, of the Fourth Kentucky district, has himself said that he will make the race for Governor of Kentucky. He probably did not intend it for publication, but just before leaving here for home this week Mr Johnson was asked a pointed question by one of his Democratic colleagues and gave a characteristically pointed reply. The question was, "are you going to be a candidate for Governor?" The reply was, "I am."

While the above quoted statement of Mr. Johnson is the first excression by him that even approaches a public announcement of his intentions, he has, of course discussed with his personal friends here a subject which began to be broached in Kentucky months ago To these, he has all along said that it was of course, too early to think of anything like a public formal announcement, but that the flattering assurances of support that had come to him from so many different portions of the State had naturally put him to thinking, and that everything now indicated, as nearly as so distant a political event could be foreshadowed, that he might be in the race. To this he has added that the talk of his candidacy had come from no faction of the party; that he would never be the candidate of any faction, and that he was not going to do'or, say anything that would give anybody any excuse to think or say that he could be persuaded into anything akin to a factional fight.

He has also invariably added in these conversations that he considered it of far more importance than the identity of any future State candidate, that the party itself in Kentucky get together, stay together and prepare for those contests that are to precede the next State contest, viz: the county elections this fall and the Congressional contests for 1910. In the latter he sees, as everybody must, the necessity of Kentucky Democracy doing its full share in every Congressional district of the State, if the devoutly hoped for result is attained, viz: the election of a Democratic House, the dethroument of Cannon and the punishment of the puppets of the trusts now in control of national legislation.

Trade at Home.

Under the above heading the Metcalf (Ill) Journal prints the following editorial appeal,

Just about now the mail order houses of our large cities, with an eye for the spring trade of the smaller cities or towns and of the farmer, are sending out bulky and illusive catalogues by the thousand Experience proves that, taking all things in to accounnt, to buy of such houses costs more and brings less satisfaction than to buy of the home merchants. Money sent out of town to these houses for what can be bought equally as well at home is just so much check to the growth and prosperity of the home town, and of farmers and others who find in the town a ready market for their eggs, butter and other produce.

Goes After Town "Knockers'

The editor of the Arlington Courier takes a fall out of the chronic town "knockers" in the following:

That's right, knock on the old town—it's nobody but your neighbors who live in it. Say things are going to the bad—it will do your soul credit when you hand St. Peter your credentials. Tell the fellow who is looking for a home among us, that the land is worn out, the schools on the bum and the town on the pig—knock on the preachers, on the Council, on the cop—they can stand it, having tough hides and cast iron stomachs. Let your wife do the washing and cut her own stove wood while you sit in somebody's way and tell what you did ten years ago, and why the tariff on socks should be raised or razed. Go on—that's what does your poor little cankerous soul and mangy hide good. There's nothing to nothing and everybody's on the skin. Do all this and if it don't relieve you take dose of salts and try to be a man.

Good Roads Pointers.

Statute labor very often does harm by causing the township funds to be spent on a statute labor basis by pathmasters who may be good farmers, but who have not the first idea of how to build a road that will last.

A road that, in the spring and fall, has to be sampled in glass jars is not a good road. The greatest injury is done to roads in the spring. Use tile to keep the foundation dry, and traffic cannot cut through a good crust.

Drain the surface of the roads; but at the same time do not forget that mud under the road is worse than mud on top. Use tile to keep the sub-soil dry. There is more time and energy wasted in driving through bad roads than would be required to build good roads three times as long

Do not grade the roads any wider than is necessary to accommodate travel. Every additional foot of width adds largely to the cost of maintenance.

Do not let water stand on the surface of a gravel or stone road, either in the wheel tracks or in pools. It costs less to drain water off the roads than to pile on new gravel and stone year after year.—Municipal world.

Most cough cures and cold cures are constipating, especially those that contain opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is free from all opiates and it cures the cold by gently moving the bowels and at the same time it soothes irritation of the throat and lungs, and in that way stops the cough. It is especially recommended for children, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar We sell and recommend it. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

How deep to plow is a subject about which there is always discussion at this time of the year. Climatic, soil and other conditions should govern the depth at which plowing is done. Since there is a distinct tendency in all agricultural soils toward shallowness, it is generally advisable to plow slightly deeper each season, thus gradually increasing the thickness of the cul ivable soil Large areas of land in the older farming sections have a mere hide of working soil, while the fertile lands of the Middle West in many instances show cultivable soil to a depth of 18 inches to several feet. Many types of soil can be deepened and improved by deeper plowing than ordinarily is done. A sheet of subsoil turned up each season and incorporated with the topsoil will in a few years effect marked improvement in the productivity and lasting qualities of the land. It is safe advice to plow a little deeper.—Breeders Gazette.

The recent uprising of the Turks has caused considerable loss of life and property. The killed around Adana, number about 5000. Among the number are two American missionaries. The Sultan of Turkey is in imminant peril of his life. Various reports are out in regard to him. The latest is that he will remain in the palace and accept whatever fate has been prepared for him and his country. Two American armored cruisers have been sent to the Mediteranean to protect American interests.

Chief interest in the United States Senate is now centered in the fight over the income tax. As the matter now stands enough Republicans favor the amendment to carry it with the aid of the solid Democratic vote, but Senator Aldrich may control enough of the insurgents to alter the situation.

School Notes.

As provided by an act of the last General Assembly, the county has been divided into six educational divisions, not unlike the magisterial districts in area, but not coinciding with the latter in boundary.

These educational divisons are known as:

Division No. 1, (St. Rose Mcintire—Fredericktown section of the county.)

Division No. 2 (Valley Hill-Mooreseville-Mt. Zion section),

Division No. 3, (Willisburg-Polin-Pulliam section),

Division No. 4 (Cardwell Sharpsville-Tatham Spring section),

Division No. 5 (Mackville-Thompsonville-Pleasant Grove section),

Division No. 6, (Springfield-Texas-Pottsville section.)

Each of these educational divisions is divided into school subdistricts for local school purposes. There are eight or nine school subdistricts in each educational division, and each of these school subdistricts is presided over by a local trustee elected by the people for a term of two years.

The trustees of the several school subdistricts in each educational division constitute the school board for that division.

It shall be the duty of the trustee in each school sub-district to personally supervise the school or schools in his sub-district and to report the needs thereof to the division board of his educational division at its regular meeting, together with such recommendations as he may deem necessary for the best interest of said school or schools. All such reports and recommendations shall be in writing.

The trustee of each school sub-district shall, in the month of April of each year, make and return to the county superintendent a complete census of the children of school age residing in his district both white and colored.

It shall be the duty of the division board of trustees for each educational division to elect one or more teachers for each school in such educational division. A majority of the trustees of such division board shall be necessary to the election of any teacher for service in any school sub-district.

All applications for positions in said schools shall be made in writing and filed with the secretary of the division board of the educational division in which a school position is sought.

The division board in each educational division shall meet for the consideration of applications and the election of teachers on the last Saturday in June of each year.

Said educational division board may meet in the last Saturdays in July and August for the purpose of filling any places that were not filled at the June meeting, or that may have become vacant from any cause.

All of these educational division boards were organized last August by the county superintendent. The organization consisted in the election of a chairman and a secretary for each educational division and the adoption of certain rules and regulations for the government of the various school sub-districts of the county.

The officers elected in educational division No 1, were John A. Medley, Chairman address Springfield, Ky. R. D. No. 5 J. Rich Smith Secretary, Springfield, Ky R. D. No 2.

Division No. 2, W. B. Barlow, Chairman, Address Polin, Ky., T. J. Settles, secretary, Address Springfield, R. D. No. 1; Division No. 3, E. P. Dedman, Chairman address Willisburg, Ky., R. D. No. 1. W P. Cheatham Secretary, address Mackville R. D. No. 1 Division No. 4, Joseph Burkhead Chairman, Address Tatham Springs, Ky., John Hungate, Secretary, Address Tatham Springs, Ky; Division No. 5, S. W. Arnold chairman, Address Mackville, Ky., J. T. Prather, Secretary, Address Springfield, Ky., R. D No. 3, Division No. 6, J. R. Durham Chairman, Address Springfield, Ky., R. D. No. 4, R. L. Milburne Secretary, Address Springfield, Ky R. D. No. 4.

It is suggested that in making application for a school, it might be well for the applicant to apply to the local trustee of the division board. It is presumed that in a great majority of the cases the division board will decide to elect the teachers, who may be nominated by the local trustee. However this is not imperative. If the people desire some other teacher than the one desired by the local trustee they have a right to make their wants known either by representatives or a petition. The local trustee is supposed to know the needs and wants of his school district and doubtless his recommendation will be respected in the absence of information or cause to the contrary.

Make your application for a school to the division board of trustees, thus:

To the Division Board of Trustees,

Educational Division No. 1, (or other number as the case may be),

Gentlemen, and enclose it in envelope addressed to the secretary thus:

Mr. J. Rich Smith,
Sect. Educational Division No. 1,
Springfield, Ky.

These addresses are merely formal and have been added by request.

For further information in regard to the number and location of the various school districts, given the educational divisions are here repeated and the old numbered districts given in each thus;

In educational district No. 1 are 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, and 53; in deucational division No. 2 are 1, 2, 5, 17, 30, 32, 33, 54 and 56; in educational division No. 3 are 3, 4, 6, 28 35, 36, 37, 58 and 60; in educational division No. 4 are 12, 23 24, 26, 27, 29, 31, 38 and 57; in education division No. 5 are 8, 9, 11, 13, 14, 15, 19, 20 and 22; in educational division No. 6 are, 16, 18, 39, 47, 50, 51, 52 and 55.

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble. Do not be fooled into accepting "own make" or other substitutes. The genuine contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package.

A Putting Tip From St. Andrews.

A man on his first visit to St. Andrews was much impressed by the high standard of efficiency which he saw displayed on the greens by those with whom he played. He studied the actions of these heroes to see if he could discover any common feature in their methods. At last he saw light. He observed that they all hold the left hand more under the club when putting than they did when driving.

From this he deduced a rule of conduct—"see the finger nails of the left hand when addressed to the ball." For the rest of his stay, and it may be for some time afterward, his own putting improved considerably.—London Post.

Two Straight Streets.

In viewing Manhattan from a point of vantage on the Metropolitan tower, nearly 700 feet from the sidewalk, one is chiefly impressed by the rigid lines which Park and Madison avenues cut through the length of the island. A tapeline drawn through a miniature model city could not be straighter. A twelve inch rifle discharged at Twenty-third street would send its bullet straight into Harlem without touching a building on either side.—New York Post.

ATTACKED BY A LION.

Awful Experience of a Railroad Man In Africa.

IN THE JAWS OF A MAN EATER.

Dragged From His Bed by the Fierce Monster, He Was Mangled and Gashed and Carried Off Bodily by the Brute.

The following description of an attack by a lion, as related to Mr. St. Michael Podmore, F. Z. S., while he was returning from a sojourn in the wild places of the earth, is so terribly realistic that we offer no apology for printing it. Mr. Podmore met the hero of this story while on a trip across the Pacific ocean and was shown the terrible scars on the man's body.

I was engaged on the transcontinental Cape to Cairo line, and our gang consisted of two white men and fifty blacks. We each occupied a separate hut.

One dark night I was aroused from sleep by hearing something moving backward and forward beneath my bed. Becoming alarmed, I listened breathlessly to a loud, long and indescribable sniff-sniff which broke the stillness of the night. My experience of Africa was not extensive, but I instantly realized that some wild animal was under my bed. Every one of my faculties became immediately paralyzed with horror. I was unable to utter a sound.

After a moment or two I became aware that a man eating lion was sniffing his way along the edges of the bed, perhaps a little puzzled at the mosquito curtains. I then felt I must do something, and instinctively, yet noiselessly, I huddled all the pillows and bedclothes over my head. No sooner had I done this than the lion, with a horrible pur, grabbed me by the right shoulder and dragged me out on to the floor and immediately began to suck the blood which streamed down my neck and chest, and every time I moved he bit me more savagely.

As I raised my knees to get into a crouching, protective position he gave me a little pat with his paw which nearly broke my leg and indicted a dreadful wound. Then suddenly the monster dropped me out of his mouth, placed one massive paw on my chest, and then, throwing back his noble head, he gave four terrible roars of triumph and defiance.

My chum walked round the hut and then saw with horror the hole made by the lion, who had torn out the mat walls and crawled under my bed. Then it dawned upon him what had happened, so he ran round to the other side and kicked the door down.

All this time the only thing I seemed to take interest in was the loud sniping suck, suck, made by the lion as he drew my blood into his reeking jaws. I remembered, with a pang of regret, that I had not lived a model life recently, and I began to pray as I had never prayed before. As I prayed I thought how curious it was that I did not feel the slightest sense of pain with a man eating lion chewing my flesh and drinking my blood.

I had been lying on my back, with my neck and head resting against the side of the hut, when my friend smashed the door. As he did so the lion drove his terrible fangs into my right groin and leaped out of the hut into the darkness. As he ran with me he seemed to be twisting and jerking me round sideways, as though striving to get me on his back.

The lion ran across the clearing with me for about thirty yards and put me down under a big boabab tree. I lay on my back with the lion on top of me, occasionally gazing with his great luminous, greenish yellow eyes, which filled me with unutterable loathing, so expressionless and cold were they, yet so diabolical in their ruthless cruelty.

The lion seemed perfectly content with his prey. I felt his long, rough tongue scraping up my thighs and abdomen, and as it crept higher and higher I felt little gusts of his horrible breath as he turned my head away, but still the long, greasy tongue worked its way toward my throat. I could distinctly feel each bite, because, although it did not cause the slightest pain, yet as the fearful fangs were driven into a fresh place I was conscious of a strange numbness in that particular part.

During all this time the negroes kept screaming, "Nkanga, nkanga!" My friend kept running round the clearing in utter bewilderment. The appalling blackness of the night added horror to the thing which no pen could describe.

At last two negroes were induced to make a couple of torches of dry grass, and by the lurid and uncertain light of these the lion was seen standing over my prostrate body. He was an enormous brute, over ten feet in length, and with a luxuriant, tawny mane that imparted to him a most majestic appearance. My friend told me afterward that as he approached with his gun I was moaning and crooning softly to myself. For some time he was afraid to shoot lest he should kill me instead of the lion. He screamed out, "Keep cool, Jack, and I will see what I can do for you!"

As he crept nearer the lion took his fangs out of my groin and faced about, growling and snarling horribly. The rifle was leveled, there was a sharp report, and the first shot hit the lion in the eye. The ball as it came out shattered his lower jaw. Two more shots were fired, and the fierce monster fell dead by my side.—London Ideas.

JOHANN'S COURTING.

One of the Royal Romances of the Hapsburgs.

More than one royal romance has occurred in the family of the Hapsburgs. The best of all, perhaps, is that of the Archduke Johann, brother of the Emperor Francis I. One day he was traveling incognito when he arrived in a village where he desired to take a coach for Vienna. He looked around to hire a carriage, for which, having been obtained, he sought a driver. At length a lad was brought to him.

"Your name?" queried the archduke.

"Johann, sir," answered the lad.

The archduke was cute. He had seen at a glance that this was no boy before him, but a girl disguised.

"What do you call yourself when you are at home helping your mother in the kitchen?" he asked, smiling.

"Anna Plochl," she answered. "And what is your name?"

"Johann too. I am an archduke."

"I suppose you will say that you are the emperor himself next?" she laughed back at him. Then she drove his carriage into Vienna.

Here, behold, the people saluted, and she made inquiries, thus finding out the real facts. But she thought little more of the matter until a month later the archduke strode into her father's cottage just at the dinner hour and asked permission to join the family gathering. The girl began apologies, but the archduke laughed them aside and insisted on being called plain "Johann."

The visit was repeated again and again, and at last the villagers began to talk—unkindly. Anna at last asked the archduke to come no more because of the gossip. That settled it. He asked her to marry him, and, despite the objections of the emperor, the two were married. Later the girl, once daughter of a jobmaster, was created baroness and countess and at last forthwen, by the emperor.—Philadelphia Ledger.

QUENTIN METYS.

How Love Changed a Great Blacksmith Into a Great Painter.

Love made Quentin Metys a painter. This great Flemish painter, whom both Antwerp and Louvain claim to have given birth, though the palm now rests with Louvain, was the son of an able blacksmith. Trained in his father's craft, the younger Quentin soon distinguished himself by his work in this base metal and among other matters turned out the wonderfully delicate ironwork that surmounts the well outside the Cathedral of Antwerp. Already an acknowledged master of his guild, it came about, writes Helen Zimmern in the Metropolitan Magazine, that the young artisan fell in love with the daughter of a rich Antwerp burgher. When asked to consent to a marriage, however, the father would not hear of it, saying he could not let his daughter wed a blacksmith. Quentin next inquired if he would feel the same objection to a painter? The good burgher, who anticipated no change of craft on the questioner's part, replied that there, indeed, was a more refined profession. What was his surprise and perhaps secret dismay when some months later Quentin Metys reappeared and asked for the fulfillment of the old burgher's promise. He had, indeed, become a painter and one already held in high esteem. To commemorate his love and his serving on her account Metys limned an "auto-portrait" that now hangs in the Uffizi, at Florence. Those acquainted with the secret know that if they touch a little spring in this frame the panel opens like a door, and behind the shelter of Metys' own portrait is concealed that of his love and wife, a sweet Dutch face for whom doubtless he deemed it well worth his while to have played the part of the patriarch Jacob.

HAD QUIT WORK
READY TO GIVE UP IN DESPAIR
Restored to Health By Vinol

"I was sick, run-down and finally had to give up work. After trying a number of remedies and several physicians, I was just about ready to give up in despair. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and it has done more good for me than all other means combined. It has built me up and restored my strength until I now feel twenty years younger, and am able to attend to my work again as usual." Job Jeanes, 1036 Lind street, Wheeling, W. Va.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains tonic iron and all of the strengthening blood-making and body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

Vinol is unexcelled as a strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness—and is the best known remedy for coughs, colds and bronchitis.

We return your money if Vinol fails to give satisfaction.

BRAVE SOLDIERS.

Sacrificed Their Lives In an Attempt to Save the Colors.

In days gone by the Zulus were the boldest fighters among all the natives of South Africa, and it was not until they had been defeated in several battles that they would live in peace with white people.

In 1878 15,000 of the Zulus attacked and killed a regiment of British soldiers, and a most heroic deed was the attempt made by three British soldiers to save the two flags, or colors, belonging to the regiment.

When it was seen that the Zulus were so many that there was no hope of keeping them at bay the colonel of the British regiment called to a young officer whose name was Lieutenant Melvill and said, "You will take charge of the colors, Melvill, and try to get away from here."

The lieutenant saluted and took into his hands the two colors of his regiment. Then, with another officer and a soldier, all mounted on horses, he suddenly dashed away with his precious burden.

They were at once seen by the keen sighted Zulus, however, and after a long chase the three gallant Englishmen, fighting to the last, were killed by the enemy.

Some time afterward one of the flags was found near a rocky stream, where the heroes had fought and died, and it was taken to England and presented to Queen Victoria.

And in memory of the three brave soldiers who had died while defending it the queen placed a wreath of immortelles on the staff which held the flag.—London Mail.

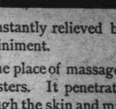

For Lame Back

An aching back is instantly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment.

This liniment takes the place of massage and is better than sticky plasters. It penetrates—without rubbing—through the skin and muscular tissue right to the bone, quickens the blood, relieves congestion, and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Sloan's Liniment

has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

JOHN TULLIUS.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Death of Mrs. McIntire.

Mrs. Sallie McIntire a lady well known to the people of Washington county, died Friday, April 16, at St. Anthony's Hospital in Louisville. Mrs. McIntire whose maiden name was Monarch, was born September 3, 1833. She received her education at Loretto Academy where she graduated at the age of eighteen. After her graduation she engaged in teaching school until her marriage February 10, 1873, to Mr. Hilory McIntire, who died about two years ago. Mrs McIntire suffered a stroke of paralysis seven years ago, which was the ultimate cause of her death. Her only relatives are her step children Messrs. Lee and Tom McIntire and Misses Sallie and Eliza Intire of this county, and Geo McIntire, now Sister Cesla Boston, Massachusetts.

The remains were laid Sunday in St. Rose cemetery.

Paganini's Cab.

On awakening one morning at his hotel in Vienna, Paganini, the celebrated violinist, was informed that the cabman whom the previous evening he had employed to drive him to the concert hall where he was playing was waiting to see him. On being admitted to his presence the man, after having advanced poverty and a large family as an excuse for the request that he was about to make, prayed the great musician to make his fortune. "What do you mean?" demanded Paganini. "Authorize me to write in large letters on the back of my vehicle these two words, 'Paganini's Cab,'" was the answer. Consent was given, with altogether satisfactory results.

Matrimonial Repartee.

She (in stern and rockbound accents)—You married me for better or worse, didn't you, Edgar?

He—Er—um—yes, I suppose so, my love.

She—Then what are you complaining about? I'm no worse than the average married woman, I can assure you!

He (meekly)—Well, if that is the case, all I've got to say is I'm mighty glad—

She (breaking in)—Glad?

He—Yes. Glad I'm not a polygamist. Er—um—looks a trifle squally over to the northeast, doesn't it, Miranda?—New York Times.

Lincoln on Money.

"Lincoln," said a senator at a banquet in Washington, "had no great admiration for mere financial success.

"'Financial success,' Lincoln once said, 'is purely metallic. The man who attains it has four metallic attributes—gold in his palm, silver on his tongue, brass in his face and iron in his heart.'"

Indigestion or dyspepsia is inability of the stomach-weak digestive juices —to digest what you eat. Kodol is a combination of all the natural digestive juices found in an ordinary healthy stomach, and it will digest your food in a natural way. Pleasant to take. Sold by the Red Cross drug store

CURES INDIGESTIOM.

All Distress from Stomach and Indigestion Vanishes in Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangle and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headaches nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

The New York Symphony Orchestra and Walter Damrosch, its conductor, for a combination which has no superior on either side of the Atlantic ocean. The artistic value of the orchestra is such that it has already been hailed as the national musical organization, and the influence upon it of its conductor is so great that people recognize it just as well when it is called "Damrosch's Orchestra."

Damrosch assumed the leadership of the New York Symphony when his father died, and when he himself was but twenty-two. Many trembled to think of the task ahead of this youth, but he mastered it and made the orchestra one of the country's great musical bodies. He did so well, in fact, that in order to perpetuate the orchestra Carnegie gave it a permanent home, the hall which bears his name.

Versatility is one of Damrosch's characteristics. He is a composer, a lecturer, a critic, and he is just as good in each role as when he is waving the baton over the New York Symphony Orchestra. He beleives in high ideals for music; and therefore he provides the best possible music for his audiences, on matter whether they are in New York or Kalamazoo.

Mr. Damrosch is conductor-in-chief of the May Music Festival to be held at the First Regiment Armory in Louisville May 6, 7 and 8. He arranged the programs, which is a sufficient guarantee of their general excellence. His full orchestra will be with him at the festival.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

First—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

Second—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

Third—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

Fourth—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it.

Bread and Milk Poultice.

A bread and milk poultice usually is used to draw a boil or pimple to a head, and because it is so effective it is well to know how to make one. Put a tablespoonful of the crumbs of stale bread into one gill of milk and put this on the stove, letting it come to a boil. Then put this on a bandage of clean, soft old cloth and apply it to the sore.

Another way of making a bread and milk poultice is to take stale breadcrumbs and pour over them hot milk. Boil until the crumbs are soft, take from the fire and gradually stir in a little sweet oil or glycerin. A bread and milk poultice is better for drawing a splinter out of the hand or finger than anything else. It most cases it will draw the splinter out in half an hour or so.

Corn Pone.

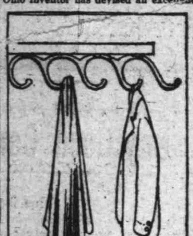

Sift together one quart sweet meal, one teaspoonful salt, two teaspoonfuls sugar. Add one pint scalding hot milk and beat well. Sift together one heaping pint flour and two teaspoonfuls baking powder and stir into the batter together with the beaten yolks of two eggs. Beat hard. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, turn into a long, shallow tin pan and bake in a hot oven. This is a famous Kentucky recipe. The Virginia rule calls for one quart buttermilk, two teaspoonfuls soda, one quart cornmeal and one pint of flour. Bake for three hours in a stone crock.

Cornmeal Mush.

For old fashioned cornmeal mush, the best cereal, according to many persons, bring three pints of water to a boil, add a level tablespoonful of salt and then sift in with one hand, little by little, stirring all the time with the other, a cupful of meal. Boil for ten minutes. Then turn into the upper part of a double boiler and cook for at least three hours; more will not hurt it. Serve the mush hot or cold, with rich cream or with maple sirup. Cold and sliced, it is delicious fried in bacon fat and eaten with maple sirup.

Hooks For the Wardrobe.

Householders are continually at a loss to find sufficient space in wardrobes and closets in which to hang their garments. Generally this is not because the closet is not large enough, but simply because the garment hooks are not arranged economically. An Ohio inventor has devised an excellent arrangement of the hooks, as shown in the accompanying illustration. Instead of placing each hook in singly he arranges five in a row, each hook directly behind the other. All five are cast from a single piece of metal and are readily secured to the top of the wardrobe. These hooks thus make it possible to utilize every possible bit of space in the wardrobe.

How to Select Fish.

Fish to be enjoyed must be fresh, and for this reason the housewife should know how to choose a good fish. In the first place the flesh must be so firm that it will not be dented by pressure with the fingers. The eyes must be full, the scales bright and the fins stiff. The gills should be bright in color, being neither dark liver color nor too pale. If there is no odor the fish may be eaten with safety.

Cherry Cake.

Beat a quarter of a pound of butter with a quarter of a pound of sugar to a cream. Then gradually add three well beaten eggs, one and a quarter cupfuls of flour, a quarter of a pint of milk, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a little grated lemon rind and three ounces of candied cherries. Pour into a buttered and papered tin and bake in moderate oven for an hour and a half.

Baked Raisin Pudding.

Take a quarter of a pound of stoned raisins, a quarter of a pound of chopped suet and half a pound of flour, add a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of baking powder and work all into a light batter with an egg and some milk. Pour into a greased pie dish and bake in a moderate oven for an hour and a quarter.

Remedy For Boils.

An excellent remedy for boils is water of a temperature that is agreeable to the patient. Apply wet linen to the affected part and frequently moisten it over again. This is said to be the most effective remedy known for the cure of boils. In connection with it a good blood purifier should be taken.

Croutons For Soup.

To make croutons to serve with soups, cut bread in slices one-half inch thick, trim the crusts and cut in squares. If to be browned in the oven, butter lightly before cutting in squares, put on a baking sheet, dry throughout and brown delicately. These are more digestible than when fried.

The Water Clock.

The earliest application of the clepsydra principle to produce motion was by Tsiang Hung, A. D. 126, who made an "orrery" representing the apparent motion of the heavenly bodies around the earth, which was kept going by dropping water. In the sixth century of the Christian era an instrument was in use in China which indicated the course of time by the weight of water as it gradually came from the beak of a bird and was received in a vessel on a balance, every pound representing a one-hundredth part of the day of twenty-four hours. About this time mercury began to be employed in clepsydras instead of water.

Victim of Circumstances.

"That Englishman is a funny chap," remarked the hat salesman in the big hotel; "he hasn't been out of his room today."

"No; he is a victim of circumstances," confided the coffee salesman.

"Victim of circumstances?"

"Yes; he put his shoes outside his door last night, according to the English custom, and somebody threw them ... down the areaway."—Chicago ...

Chestnut Dare No. 3290

Foaled 1900

This horse again showed his superiority over other Stallions last year in his own class and in sweepstake classes, defeating all the prominent Stallions in the adjoining counties. One of his winnings was $100 sweepstake defeating eight entries of first class horses. He and his colts also won the herd ring. Its becoming stale to repeat that not one of his colts of five seasons have ever been defeated by the colts of any horse owned or farmed in county. Special rings of colts of other horses claimed by some to be the best in the State have been shown, but not one of these have ever won a tie blue or red. All familiar with his braeding know he has more high priced colts already to his credit than any horse now in county—and yet a young horse. Chestnut Dare combines the blood of the Chester Dares and Chief families. He is sired by Chester 10, 1st dam by Red Chief, 2d dam by Black Hawk Chief, 3d dam by Brinkers Drennon.

$20 To Insure a Living Colt

He is sired by the great show horse and breeder Highland Denmark, 1st dam a State Fair winner by the championship saddle horse Thornton Star, 2d dam by the show stallion, Art Rose by Artist and out of a Montrose mare This stallion is not only well bred but a fine individual proving himself a winner last year as a two year-old and also at a yearling. He has great action for a youngster, a good step and the making of a great saddle stallion. Considering the breeding qualities of both of his sire and dam and his own fiinsh and conformation, he is sure to rank among the best as a sire,

Hackney Boy

Hackney Boy is a sorrel 16 hands high, a horse of good conformation, large flat bone and one of the hackney type. He is 5 years old and his first colts are all good. He is sired by "Old County Member. 1st dam by Von Moltke, 2d dam by Varick He will make the season

THE KETTLEDRUM.

It Is an Instrument That Is Pretty Difficult to Handle.

The kettledrum has been so far improved that it has a pitch; in fact, it contains the large range of four notes. It is, as its name shows, a copper kettle, or basin, covered over with skin, which can be tightened or loosened by screws placed around the edge. Drums of this shape were used by the Romans, and even earlier by the Greeks and Etruscans. But they were not known in western Europe before the crusades.

Although it may appear so, the kettledrum is not at all an easy instrument to manage, for in order to get each of the four notes the player has to turn all the screws and adjust the parchment anew. For this reason kettledrums are often used in pairs, one tuned to the keynote, the other to the fourth below. In this way the drummer has always the two chief notes in the scale to work upon, and if the composer has not exacted much from him he will have quite an easy time. But when a change of key is approaching it is quite exciting to watch the drummer screwing and unscrewing the the drum and lightly tapping to hear if the pitch is true, and if we recollect that he often has to tune his drum while the whole orchestra is lifting up its voice we realize that he must be no mean musician; that he must possess an exquisitely sensitive and well trained ear and a steady hand and nerve as well.—Jessie K. MacDonald in St. Nicholas.

MODERN ROYALTY.

Hopelessly Handicapped by the Progress of Mankind.

What is a modern king for if not to set a pattern of the brave, courteous, urbane gentleman and make a comely figurehead for state occasions? If he fails there of what earthly use is he? He cannot govern. He dare not attempt to rule. He is so outclassed in professional training by his own generals that he would never be tolerated as an active commander in chief in time of war. He is hopelessly below the requirements of the age if he dreams of leadership in art or learning, literature or science. If he cannot make a brave showing of the virtues and graces of more primitive times when he gets a chance he fails utterly.

The truth is that modern royalty is handicapped hopelessly by the progress of mankind. The age is far too complex to enable a king to play the part he is cast for in the great drama of the world's work and struggles. He would be more than human if he could live up to the demands of his birth and the traditions of his vocation. Kings were formerly tragedies when they were evil and great benefactors when they were both good and wise. Now they are perilously near the border line of comedy, which slides easily down into farce.—Cleveland Leader.

Sneezing.

Sneezing has an extensive folklore in many countries. Sometimes the act is considered ominous of good and sometimes of evil. Among the Jews it has always been regarded at an appropriate moment, such as the conclusion of a bargain, as propitious, and a belief still lingers in many parts of the country that the regular habit of sneezing, particularly after meals, is conducive to longevity and a precaution against fevers. The old English custom of saying "God bless you!" when a person sneezed, so as to avoid evil consequences, has its counterpart in many far distant parts of the globe. The early settlers in Brazil found the sneezer saluted with "God preserve you!" while in Fiji it was customary to retort, "May you live!" In superstitious Suffolk there is a sneezing tariff—once a wish, twice a kiss, thrice a letter and four times a disappointment.—London Sphere.

The Decisive Battles.

Some married men will contend that "The Fifteen Decisive Battles of the Word" will never be complete until a few domestic scraps are added to the volume.—London Telegraph.

Big Trotting Meet.

Announcement has been made of a race meeting to be held in Lawton, Okla., April 17 to 27, inclusive, which, it is believed, will attract between 300 and 500 of the best horses on the western turf. The Comanche county fair grounds have been leased by the promoters of the meet. Announcement was also made that Lawton, Chickasaw, Enid, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Claremore, Bartlesville, Pawsuska, all in Oklahoma, and Parsons, Kan., will be included in a racing circuit.

Unruh May Succeed Baldwin.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Los Angeles Racing association will be held in the near future to elect a president to replace the deceased E. J. Baldwin. A. J. Unruh, the real comptroller of the Baldwin estates, is mentioned as the possible successor to the late turfman. Unruh has been very closely connected with the business of Mr. Baldwin and the biggest holders of stock in that race course.

Rovers Will Tour Great Britain.

The famous Fall River (Mass.) Rovers, one of the best association football teams in the east, will tour Great Britain next season. Negotiations are under way for games in England, Ireland and Scotland. It is the general opinion of socker experts in this country that the team will make a good showing against teams on the other side.

Wisconsin For Boxing.

Boxing may be legalized in the state of Wisconsin before another year rolls by. The fight clubs of Milwaukee and other towns where glove contests have been held have acted in co-operation with business men of Wisconsin, and an attempt is to be made to get the legislature to pass a bill permitting fights throughout the state of Wisconsin.

Entries For Kentucky Futurity.

With the entries of several California breeders and others now in Europe to be heard from, the entry list to the twentieth renewal of the Kentucky Futurity for foals of 1909 will be far in excess of last year. With breeders at a distance yet to be heard from, the number will run over 1,300, which will be a record breaker.

SEASON 1909

THE ENGLISH IMPORTED HACKNEY STALLION

Glassmore Prince No. 10013. E H S B

These stallions will make the season of 1909 at "Rayview," better known as the Foster Ray place, on the Danville and Lebanon pike, one and one half miles from Lebanon, Ky.

Glassmoor Prince

No 10012, E. H. S. B.

Sire Copalder Bonny Gabriel, No. 8105; he is by Stow Gabriel 5416, Dam Glassmore Sue 18821, by Accident 2d, 4103.

DESCRIPTION.—Foaled 1904. Is a beautiful black, 15 hands 3 inches, one hind ankle white, snip in face. A very rangy neck, fine head and ear, grand shoulders, short back, fine lengthy quarter, a clean, neat set of limbs. This horse has extremely high all around action, folds his knees and works his shoulders, with lots of speed. He is closely related to the great show mare Hildred, owned by Miss Bedford, of Connecticut, and his sire, Copalder Bonny Gabriel, sold for $8,000

GLASSMORE PRINCE has already proven to be a great show horse, winning first at Iowa and Illinois State Fairs, Chicago and Terre Haute Horse Shows in 1907. He comes from a chestnut family and his colts are good colored—think they will be mostly bays and sorrels.

RED REX No. 3147

Sire Rex Peavine, No. 1776; he by Rex McDonald, 833; he by Rex Denmark, 840. 1st dam Nancy, by Kentucky Chief; he by Indian Chief. 2nd dam by Gray Eagle; he by American Eagle. 3rd day by Doty's Gray Eagle. 4th dam by Kavanaugh's Gray Eagle.

DESCRIPTION.—Foaled 1903. A beautiful chestnut sorrel, 16 hands high, with two white stockings. He has a very fine head and neck, good, short back, extra bone and muscle, and his head and tail style is great. He can rack very fast, is very distinct in his trot, and can step a forty gait with all the grace and action one could wish, and is good at the canter. When you see him to harness you think he is a trotting horse, and then put the saddle on him and he is a great gaited horse.

Rex Peavine, the sire of this horse, can no doubt say something that no other horse living can. He had to his credit last year Edna Mae, the champion five-gaited mare, defeating not only mares, but mares, stallions and geldings, and she sold for $4,000. Also Queen o' the May, the champion walk trot mare of the world, defeating Poetry of Motion for the Throne and sold for $5,000. Mat Cohen's whole string of show horses this year are all Rex Peavinels, and he is the greatest saddle horse man in the State. Although Red Rex's colts are young, they are commanding high prices Look at him and look at his breeding and be convinced that he is the best in the land.

Worn Women

Women, worn and tired from overwork, need a tonic. That feeling of weakness or helplessness will not leave you of itself. You should take Wine of Cardui, that effectual remedy for the ailments and weaknesses of women. Thousands of women have tried Cardui and write enthusiastically of the great benefit it has been to them. Try it—don't experiment—use this reliable, oft-tried medicine.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

J 33

Mrs. Rena Hare, of Pierce, Fla., tried Cardui and afterward wrote: "I was a sufferer from all sorts of female trouble, had pain in my side and legs, could not sleep, had shortness of breath. "I suffered for years, until my husband insisted on my trying Cardui. The first bottle gave me relief and now I am almost well." Try Cardui. 'Twill help you.

Detroit Driving Club's Chart Revised.

The directors of the Detroit Driving club have reconsidered their decision to change the Chamber of Commerce $5,000 pacing stake from the 2:13 class to the 2:15 class, and this fixture of the grand circuit meeting will remain in the 2:13 class. The value of the Wolverene handicap, a free for all race, which takes the place of the 2:07 pacing stake, is to be $3,000. The Merchants and Manufacturers' stake of $10,000 remains for the 2:24 trotters, and there is a renewal of the $3,000 event for 2:11 trotters. The Wolverene is to be two in three and the other events three in five heats.

Penn Crew Arranging Dates.

There appears to be a growing attempt to heal the athletic break which has long existed between Pennsylvania and her natural geographical rival, Princeton. The freshmen crews of the universities will meet in a race on the Schuylkill, and it is a known fact that negotiations are under way to arrange a race between the varsity eights as well. Rowing is booming at Pennsylvania, and a pretentious schedule is being arranged. A varsity race has already been scheduled with Yale, and races with Princeton and New York universities are probabilities.

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you.

It would bankrupt us.

The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Hear Brook Curry's Statement About This Horse

Sansbreaker in condition, is a really great show horse He is good gaited, good headed, don't pull, don't hit, loves company and is perfectly manneied. He will race right where he has a trial, has a perfect disposition in and out of the stall. Over the road he is perfect, afraid of nothing, easily controlled, perfect manners and a nice smooth pliable horse in every way, Bred in the best lines and should prove a good stock horse. Brook Curry trained this horse last season and sent him the above trials. He thinks he could have driven him in 2.12. He loves company and I regard him as game a horse as I ever drove. Think him a great prospect over any kind of track.

San Breaker will make the season of 1909 at the Springfield Fair Grounds at
